DRAFT DECISIONS * PROPOSED DECISIONS * ALTERNATES * PRESIDING OFFICER'S DECISION *
ARBITRATOR'S REPORTS

12/22/05

R00-02-004 - This decision adopts Revised General Order No. 168, Market Rules to Empower Consumers and to Prevent Fraud. The General Order enumerates consumer rights and freedom of choice principles; extends to wireless carriers rules addressing (i) investigatory efforts of the Consumer Affairs Branch, (ii) employee identification and (iii) Emergency 911 access that currently apply only to holders of Commission-issued Certificates of Public Convenience and Necessity; and combines these rules with a set of anti-slamming rules. The decision repeals the Commission's interim rules governing placement of non-communications charges on telephone bills.

This decision also initiates new education and enforcement efforts designed to empower consumers and root out fraud. It focuses Commission resources on creating a new Commission-led telecommunications consumer education program that will use multiple languages to reach out to California residents. This decision enhances the Commission's ability to enforce laws and regulations in a timely and effective manner through creating a special Telecommunications Consumer Fraud Unit; expanding its toll-free hotline to cover allegations of fraud; and increasing cooperation with other law enforcement agencies. In order to ensure that the needs of non-English speaking populations in particular are protected, the decision further directs Commission Staff to draft a report on in-language practices and any special problems faced by consumers with limited English proficiency; Proposed Decision of President Peevey and Commissioner Kennedy.
